

NCCCO Crane Operator Certification

Preparation Class Information and Written Exam

It is recommended that an operator attend a Prep class in order to prepare for the NCCCO written exams. This 3-day Prep class will cover crane fundamentals, operation, terminology and how to calculate load charts. A sample quiz will be given in class to better prepare the operator for the Core and Load Chart exams. The written exam will be on Thursday. See additional registration and pricing information on second page.

Practical Examination

An accredited NCCCO practical examiner will provide the practical examinations. All operators must take the hands on practical examination. The practical exam consists of five tasks that the operator must complete and pass along with the written exam in order to be certified for five years through the NCCCO.

Optional: Practice Training - $150/hour

Operators have the opportunity to practice with the examiner before their practical exam. This gives the operator the confidence needed to successfully pass the practical exam. Operators learn such things as controlling the load, catching the swing, multi-tasking and control. Practice training can be scheduled at the end of each prep class day with up to three operators per day. Practice training includes one-hour of practice time on the crane and test course. This time must be reserved at the same time as the class in order to lock in a time slot.
