

Minnesota/ North Dakota Chapter Weekly Safety Meetings Safety Training for the Construction Industry Members Membership

Volume 37 Issue 22 June 2, 2014

Vational Fall Prevention Stand-Down

d for a National Fall Prevention Stand-Down through June 6th. During the stand-down, their supervisors are asked to pause during the and talk about fall hazards and fall prevention. The reduce the number of falls in construction.

tely, fails account for the largest number of deaths

Another mistake is taking chances. Nobody comes to work expecting to fall, but that's not the same as working to avoid a fall. When you work at an unprotected edge, stand on the rail of a scaffold, or lean a little too far on a ladder, you're taking chances. Each time you take chances like this, your mind registers that you did it and "got away with it." You teach yourself that these chances are "OK" and it gets easier for you to take them. Break the pattern. Identify fall hazards and then take action to avoid getting hurt. If you work 6 feet or more ave to be protected from falling.

Why Safety?

You know what OSHA can do when they find violations on your site. You understand that accidents raise your workers' compensation premiums. You really don't want anybody to get killed on your jobsite. But what are you DOING to avoid those problems? Weekly Safety Meetings can help.

You need Weekly Safety Meetings.

New

Member

Benefit

Why Meetings?

Remind your employees to follow safe work practices. Help them identify unsafe conditions. Keep them thinking about safety and making safe choices. Weekly Safety Meetings help protect your most valuable assets.

Why Weekly?

Shorter, more frequent tool box talks mean better comprehension and retention. Training once a week with Weekly Safety Meetings takes ten minutes or less and you cover four or five important topics every month.

NEW! QUIZZES enhance a Weekly Safety Meeting.

- Demonstrate that your employees paid attention and learned.
- Improve your safety training documentation showing learning not just attendance.

See back for more details. Weekly Safety Meet

You call the crew.

- Read> simple one-page format
- 2. Sign> worker signatures provide documentation
- 3. File> proof of OSHA compliance at your fingertips

Get back to work.

SAFETY MEETING OUTLINES, INC.

Weekly Safety Meetings via e-mail once each month. Note that the $99 price for Premium Membership is only available through ABC of Minnesota/North Dakota.

-Down

Helping save Lives, Time and Money for over 35 years

ABC is ready to help.

ABC is focused on helping you make your business stronger. Jobsite safety is an area where we can help you and your employees at the same time. Our chapter offers you the opportunity to buy Weekly Safety Meetings for only $99 per year! You save 43% compared to the retail rate. We're talking about weekly training for as little as $2 and you get unlimited access to the online Library with over 200 additional Weekly Safety Meetings so you can tailor your training to your needs each week. Even if you download "free" toolbox talks from the web, it will cost you more than $2 in time to find them, review them, and get them in a usable format. This new ABC of Minnesota/North Dakota benefit makes safety training easier, keeps your employees safer, and makes your business stronger.

Your cost of $99 per year for Premium Membership is only available through ABC of Minnesota/North Dakota. Call us today at (952) 941-8693.

Safety Meeting Outlines has been publishing Weekly Safety Meetings for over 35 years. Their Meetings have become the de facto standard for jobsite toolbox talks in the construction industry. They specialize in making toolbox safety talks easy and effective for contractors like you.

NEW! OUZZIJME

Weekly Safety Meeting

Quizzes:

- enhance the training impact the Weekly Safety Meetings have on your people.
- strengthen the credibility of your documentation for OSHA compliance and for potential litigation.

Quizzes are included FREE with Premium Membership. "With quizzes I'm sure that my employees are paying attention. OSHA and our insurance company qualifies the Meetings as training sessions."

Joe Desrosiers Nation Wide Construction

DOWN

Premium Membership

E-mail delivery and Library access. You receive 52 Meetings per year by e-mail, plus Quizzes for those Meetings, plus unlimited access to over 200 Meetings in our online library.

You can choose meetings anytime that match your work, or conduct additional training as needs arise.

Also available in Spanish.

Variety of Topics

Premium Membership WEEKLY SAFETY MEETINGS

Forklifts OSHA Top 10 Utility Hazards Ladders Power Tools Safe Lifting Lockout/Tagout Trench Safety Summertime Heat Would We Pass a Drive-By Inspection? Cuts and Puncture Wounds Gasses, Vapors, & Steam Slips, Trips, and Falls Winter Hazards Hard Hats Scaffolding Avoid Electrocution Confined Spaces Hearing Protection Fall Protection Heavy Equipment Fire Safety

Start your Weekly Safety Meeting subscription today!

Call Tom Westlund, Director of Education, at ABC of Minnesota/ North Dakota to start your subscription and start saving Lives, Time, and Money. You can reach him at (952) 941-8693 or twestlund@mnabc.com.

and Contractors, Inc.

Minnesota/ North Dakota Chapter